Why CaryNews.com?

Research shows that more consumers trust advertising on local newspaper Web sites than any other local media Web sites or portals. Even more significant, more consumers take action on ads on local newspaper Web sites than any other site. What can be more local than reaching consumers in your own backyard? Community news, information and advertising from local businesses are why thousands of readers turn to carynews.com each month and why your advertising plan should include this powerful medium to help grow your business.
