

Notice of April 12, 2016 Community Meeting

Staff from the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights (OCR) will be visiting the Wake County Public School System (the District). The visit is part of a review of whether the discipline policies and practices of the District discriminate against African American students on the basis of race. As part of its investigation, OCR will provide this opportunity for students, parents of students, and other members of the community to share their experiences. OCR is particularly interested in hearing about your experiences with the District's application of its discipline policies and the District's use of positive behavior interventions and supports.

We want to hear from you!
